

2-1-1 Alameda County is monitoring the situation in Houston and the surrounding areas. At this time we have not been contacted by an official disaster relief organization requesting us to provide housing-related information and referrals for those needing relocation or temporary housing. We are staying connected to our partners to determine if there will be a need for housing and services for those who may relocate to Alameda County. Should the need arise, 2-1-1 Alameda County will be available to link people to available resources.

Here's How You Can Help People Affected By Harvey

<https://www.unitedway.org/hurricane-harvey>

